Summit-2026

Welcome Message

Dear Participants,

On behalf of the organizing committee, it is our great honour to welcome you to the International Experts Summit on Infectious Diseases and Preventive Medicine, taking place from April 13–15, 2026, in the dynamic city of Tokyo, Japan, and through our hybrid platform accessible worldwide.

This global gathering serves as a premier forum for public health professionals, researchers, educators, and policy leaders to share cutting-edge knowledge, innovative practices, and collaborative strategies in advancing global health and preventive medicine.

Our hybrid format enables us to bring together voices from every corner of the world offering both in-person engagement and virtual participation to ensure accessibility, inclusivity, and a truly international exchange of ideas.

Throughout the three-day summit, you will experience insightful keynote sessions, interactive panel discussions, and networking opportunities aimed at addressing current public health challenges and shaping evidence-based solutions for a healthier future.

We are thrilled to host this significant event in Tokyo, a city known for its rich culture, innovation, and hospitality. Whether you are joining us on-site or online, we warmly welcome your contributions and look forward to meaningful collaboration.

Together, let us work toward building resilient health systems and promoting preventive care on a global scale.

About Tokyo:

Tokyo, the capital of Japan, is a city where futuristic innovation meets deep-rooted tradition. As one of the world's most advanced and organized metropolitan cities, Tokyo offers a perfect environment for hosting international conferences. The city is equipped with world-class infrastructure, high-speed transportation, luxurious accommodation, and cutting-edge technology, making it a top choice for global scientific gatherings.

Key Highlights of Tokyo:

Tokyo Tower is one of the most iconic landmarks in Japan, located in the heart of Tokyo. Standing at 333 meters (1,092 feet) tall, it was inspired by the Eiffel Tower in Paris and serves as a symbol of Japan's post-war rebirth and rapid modernization. Since its completion in 1958, it has been a major tourist attraction, broadcasting tower, and cultural monument.

Senso-ji Temple, located in the historic Asakusa district, is Tokyo's oldest Buddhist temple, dating back to 628 AD. It is one of Japan's most visited cultural landmarks and a must-see destination for both international tourists and locals.

Tokyo Skytree is a dazzling symbol of futuristic Japan and holds the title of the tallest structure in Japan and the second-tallest in the world, standing at a height of 634 meters (2,080 feet). Located in the Sumida district of Tokyo, it serves as a broadcasting tower, an observation deck, and a tourist hotspot, attracting millions of visitors each year.

Ginza is Tokyo's most prestigious shopping, dining, and entertainment district, renowned for its luxury boutiques, fine dining, modern architecture, and vibrant street life. Often compared to New York's Fifth Avenue or Paris' Champs-Élysées, Ginza seamlessly blends global sophistication with Japanese elegance.
